President Will Be Without California Representation in Electoral College

State Supreme Tribunal Rules
Republican Electors Cannot Appear on Ballot

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 3.—President Taft will be without representation from California in the electoral college. Not a vote for him can be cast in the state unless it be written in.

By a decision of the State Supreme court today electors pledged to him cannot appear on the November ballot — either as Republicans or by petition as independents.

The date for filing petitions has expired, but were it otherwise, that outlet would still be closed to the Taft electors, for the minority convention which nominated them decided not to circulate petitions, but to rely on their membership in the national Republican party, whose nominees at the Chicago convention they were supporting.

A Newspaper Man Writes an Open Letter to Dr. Hartman

I give below an extract from a letter written by the business manager of one of the leading newspapers in this country. He said in part: "I was very much interested in your article about the use of alcohol in patient's medicines. As you know, your ad. has been running in my paper more or less for the last twenty years. I have been frequently criticized for advertising your remedy on the ground that it contained alcohol and was therefore harmful."

"I am not a doctor myself and do not profess to know anything about such subjects. But I wish I had been supplied with the information contained in your article years ago. Your article exactly meets all the objections that I have had to contend with."

"That alcohol is a useful drug and is the active principle of wine, beers, cider and other beverages is to me a new thought. That it is a useful remedy and assists the other ingredients in making a cure, I cannot doubt after reading your article."

"I think so much of your article that I am going to have a reprint of it made and strike off thousands of them, which I shall mail to objectors as they have arise in the future."

"Your articles convey a great deal of information to the public. I think the newspapers can well afford to publish them gratis, for the articles you have been furnishing me lately constitute some of the best things that occur in the paper. I wish you continued success in your magnificent work."

My Dear Sir— I appreciate your letter. It is not the only one of the kind I have received.

I know that Peruna has been greatly misrepresented and misunderstood. I have not had time heretofore to answer these objections. I have been too busy in my many enterprises. My farm, with its various departments, has so thoroughly engaged my enthusiasm and attention in times past that I could give little heed to critics.

But I have taken up the matter now.

My farm is in the hands of intelligent overseers and my other business is all organized such as to lay the care and attention to these matters. I am proposing to explain to the public all there is to say about Peruna, knowing full well as soon as the public understands it that the malicious things said about Peruna will be quickly forgotten.

In reply the Roosevelt men rejoined that the convention was the duly called and constituted convention of the Republican party in this state, which owed no allegiance to the national party or its nominees, that its decision in the state was final and its nomination of the Republican nominees for president, for whom those who withdrew from it were bolters, and had ceased to be Republicans.

On this point the court was unanimous in holding that the convention was held according to law and was empowered to act according to its notion of political expediency and that its actions cannot be made the subject of inquiry by the court.

WILL TRY AGAIN.

The constitutionality of the law was in question. Taking their position before the court as petitioners the Taft people could not raise the question. Following the decision of the court they said that at the action would be taken immediately, for after the general election in November.

MISS GLADYS EMMONS OF ALAMEDA WHO WAS STAR FEATURE AT THE UNION ADELPHIAN MEETING TODAY.

ALAMEDA, Oct. 3.—Miss Gladys Isela E. Emmons, one of the best known young women in Alameda, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George W. Emmons, made her first public appearance in Alameda as an entertainer this afternoon, winning much praise for her clever delineations given at the union meeting of the Adelphian club. Miss Emmons recently returned from Boston where she had been a member of the Boston Adelphians, the club program today included soprano solos by Mrs. Leota Schenck, assisted by Miss Mildred Turner, pianist.

The hostess for the union meeting was Mrs. John E. Higgins, who was assisted in receiving by Mrs. George W. Emmons, Mrs. Emma Rathgeb, Mrs. Frederick F. Sayre, Mrs. George C. Thompson, Mrs. John F. Soule, Mrs. George E. Plummer, Mrs. I. Ehrenberg and Mrs. E. J. Hough.

Mrs. P. W. Barton was in charge of the tables, her assistants being a bevy of young society girls. Those assisting Mrs. Barton were Miss Dora Dryeneck, Miss Mary Gandy, Miss Betty Moore, Miss Farrington, Miss Edith Corday and Miss Phyllis Cockcroft.

J. P. Morgan Says His Company Works Only for the Benefit of the People that the national committee did not need funds, but that the state committee was badly in need of money. He had a great deal to do with Mr. Cortelyou during the campaign, but I do not know whether he was present at the meeting when the $50,000 contribution was discussed.

FRIDAY WITH BLISS.

Morgan said his relations with the elder Cornelius N. Bliss had been very intimate. Bliss and his father had been associated, he said, and whenever they wanted anything they sent to Mr. Bliss to me.

He told you supposed that Mr. Bliss and Mr. Cortelyou kept from President Roosevelt the fact that you contributed to the campaign fund?"

"I know nothing about that," said Morgan.

He had not discussed campaign contributions with Mr. Cortelyou in 1904, he said.

When Senator Pomerene took up the examination Morgan leaned forward in the witness chair with one hand cupped over his ear. But he failed to hear and finally he got down from the witness chair, saying:

"Can't I sit down here near you, I can't hear very well?"

MOVES UP CLOSE.

He took a chair from one of the official stenographers and moved it to within a few feet of Senator Pomerene.

Pomerene then asked whether other members of the firm of J. Pierpont Morgan, specifying George W. Perkins, had contributed in 1904. Morgan did not know.

"Did your firm contribute to the campaign funds of any other political parties in 1904?" asked Pomerene.

"No, sir, I did not and I have no knowledge of any one else so contributing."

Pomerene asked about conferences with George B. Cortelyou.

Morgan said he talked with Cortelyou in 1907 over the financial situation, but that he recalled only one conference over politics.

"Did you talk with President Mellon in New York, New Haven and Hartford railroad in 1904?"

"Yes."

TALKED WITH MANY.

"Did you talk with representatives of the big insurance companies about the political situation during the campaign?"

"I can't tell. I talked to many people. Many people came in to see me every day."

"Do you remember any conference of big financial interests on the question of whom the interests would support for president?"

"No, I remember no such conference."

"When was it first determined that the financial interests would support the Republican nominee?" asked Pomerene.

"I never had any conference on that point," returned Morgan.

The $100,000 contribution was again brought up and Pomerene asked whether Bliss was collecting any special fund.

"Did you or Mellon or Mr. Harriwould make in the regular course if we were especially interested in the campaign," said he. "We made the same contribution in 1900."

"Were you especially interested in the campaign of 1904?"

"Yes, we were."

"Was Mr. Harriman especially interested in that campaign?"

"I really do not know."

"Are the insurance companies especially interested in this campaign?"

"I do not know; there was never any concerted action by me with any of the insurance companies in that latter part of time," said Morgan emphatically.

"Of course, Mr. Perkins was a director of the New York Life Insurance company, and he probably talked with me about their interests, but I can't remember any specific conversation."

NOT AT ALL UNLIKELY.

Pomerene asked whether Morgan had any talk with Harriman at that time about the effect of the campaign on the railroads.

"I do not remember any, but it is not at all unlikely," answered Morgan.

He knew nothing of any contribution by Harriman or Charles S. Mellon.

"Did Mr. Harriman ever tell you he had a talk with Mr. Roosevelt about railroad interests?" asked Pomerene.

"I remember no such conversation."

The financier here interrupted the examination to say:

"Mr. Chairman, I want to make a statement right here."

"Please."

NO PROMISES MADE.

"I want it distinctly understood," Morgan said, emphatically, "that J. P. Morgan and company never made a single subscription to any election with any promise or expectation of any return, in any shape or manner, and we never made a subscription unless we thought it for the best interest of the government and the people. We never had a communication from any candidate; we never had an application from any candidate. The only interest we had was the interest of the public; we never expected any returns, and we never gave any."

"Those contributions were all under the direction of Mr. Perkins. I speak of those because I remember them. I don't know what Mr. Perkins may have given."

Morgan said he knew of no conference of financial leaders in New York during 1904 that would support Roosevelt for President in 1908.

When Senator Morgan moved his chair up to the committee table and resting his elbow on the edge he leaned toward his questioner.

"Did not you remonstrate to any one when the $100,000 contribution was made that the $100,000 had been pretty liberal?" asked the Senator.

"Oh, I did that originally," said Morgan, laughing. He added that "when they came for the $50,000" he had gotten used to it, and did not object."

NOT MUCH GRATITUDE.

"Did Mr. Bliss and Mr. Cortelyou express any gratitude?"

"No, I never experienced much gratitude in this connection," returned Morgan.

Paynter referred to Morgan's remark that he had been interested only

"in what was good for the country."

"Is not it true that we often think what we want is best for the country?" asked the Senator.

"I often want a thing that I ought not to have, and I try to get out wanting it."

Morgan said the second contribution of $50,000 was brought out by

"the fear of the street a Democratic victory in New York would have "done us harm."

"I feel like a different person and recommend Hoadly to any one suffering from catarrh."

NOTE—This column will be occupied from time to time by an article reflecting the general news and opinions of the House of Business upon various points of public interest.

They Say

that at one of the big museums in this country there is a Chinese painting which is so large that only a portion of it can be unrolled at one time. You must go back time and again if you want to study it in its entirety.

Something of the same sort is true of this store. No use expecting to take it all in on one trip. Every day new beauties of merchandise are unrolled, and whoever wishes to see it all must keep coming.

Overheard within an hour in the store yesterday afternoon:

Looking down from the Mezzanine Floor: "Isn't it interesting to stand here and look down at the crowds."

In front of the Hallowe'en display at the Stationery Counter: "How very, very far ahead this store is in its unique displays."

On the Roof Garden: "What a wonderfully beautiful place this is."

Stepping from the escalator at the Second Floor: "Well, this store is certainly modern and convenient."

Everybody said it heartily, as if they meant it. But in some tones I noticed a kind of reflective surprise, as if a store astonishes people by being beautiful and interesting.

And it is true. With all the progress made by the modern department stores people are still surprised to find entertaining features in their shopping centers. But if one stops to think, merchandising is a more or less romantic business. From all over the world the merchandise is gathered—each item of which has its own story—and placed here for the people's choosing, and why should not the setting be fair?

If Capwell's has more of beauty and attraction than other stores, it is due to a wish to keep abreast of the times and give Oakland a merchandising emporium to boast of at home and abroad.

We may not be responsible for our relatives, but usually we are responsible for our home furnishings—our curtains, rugs, pictures, etc. Their selection and arrangement reflect our good taste and refinement.

Some of us have enjoyed seeing a play written by Mr. Pinero and called "His House in Order," which was chiefly concerned with a house not in order.

But while an untidy house was ultimately forgiven, the stage heroine, no housewife in real life would care to run the same risk. Certainly no housewife in Oakland.

If she has not the time nor the inclination to plan the home renovating, Capwell's will do it for her—better now than ever since our drapery department has been reorganized and enlarged under new management. The men who choose the needed things for us to perform this service have selected from the best the world markets offer and are ready to supply the New draperies for the living room.

The bit of covering for the old furniture.

The new rugs and curtains.

A wicker chair, table or basket.

A handsome piece of pottery, cut glass or china.

Lamps and the needed kitchen utensils that will make the winter months as pleasant as home comforts can provide them.

She was a very little girl—I would guess her age at five—and she had long, dark, curly hair hanging down her back, and big blue eyes, which I watched grow wider and wider when my mamma brought her into the Toy Department yesterday. She looked about her with ecstasy and wonder, then drawing close to her mother, said:

"Mamma, is this where Santa Claus lives?"

It was a natural question in view of the thousands of beautiful things collected here to charm the children.

In one spot animals that almost live and breathe—automobiles that go like the wind—fire trucks that make ready to a jolly-mysterious magic lantern—machines that run and drive machines.

There is a great variety of warlike material, with internal works and guns like the real. In still another spot the railroad trains with tracks to set them on—and hundreds of auto toys of all kinds.

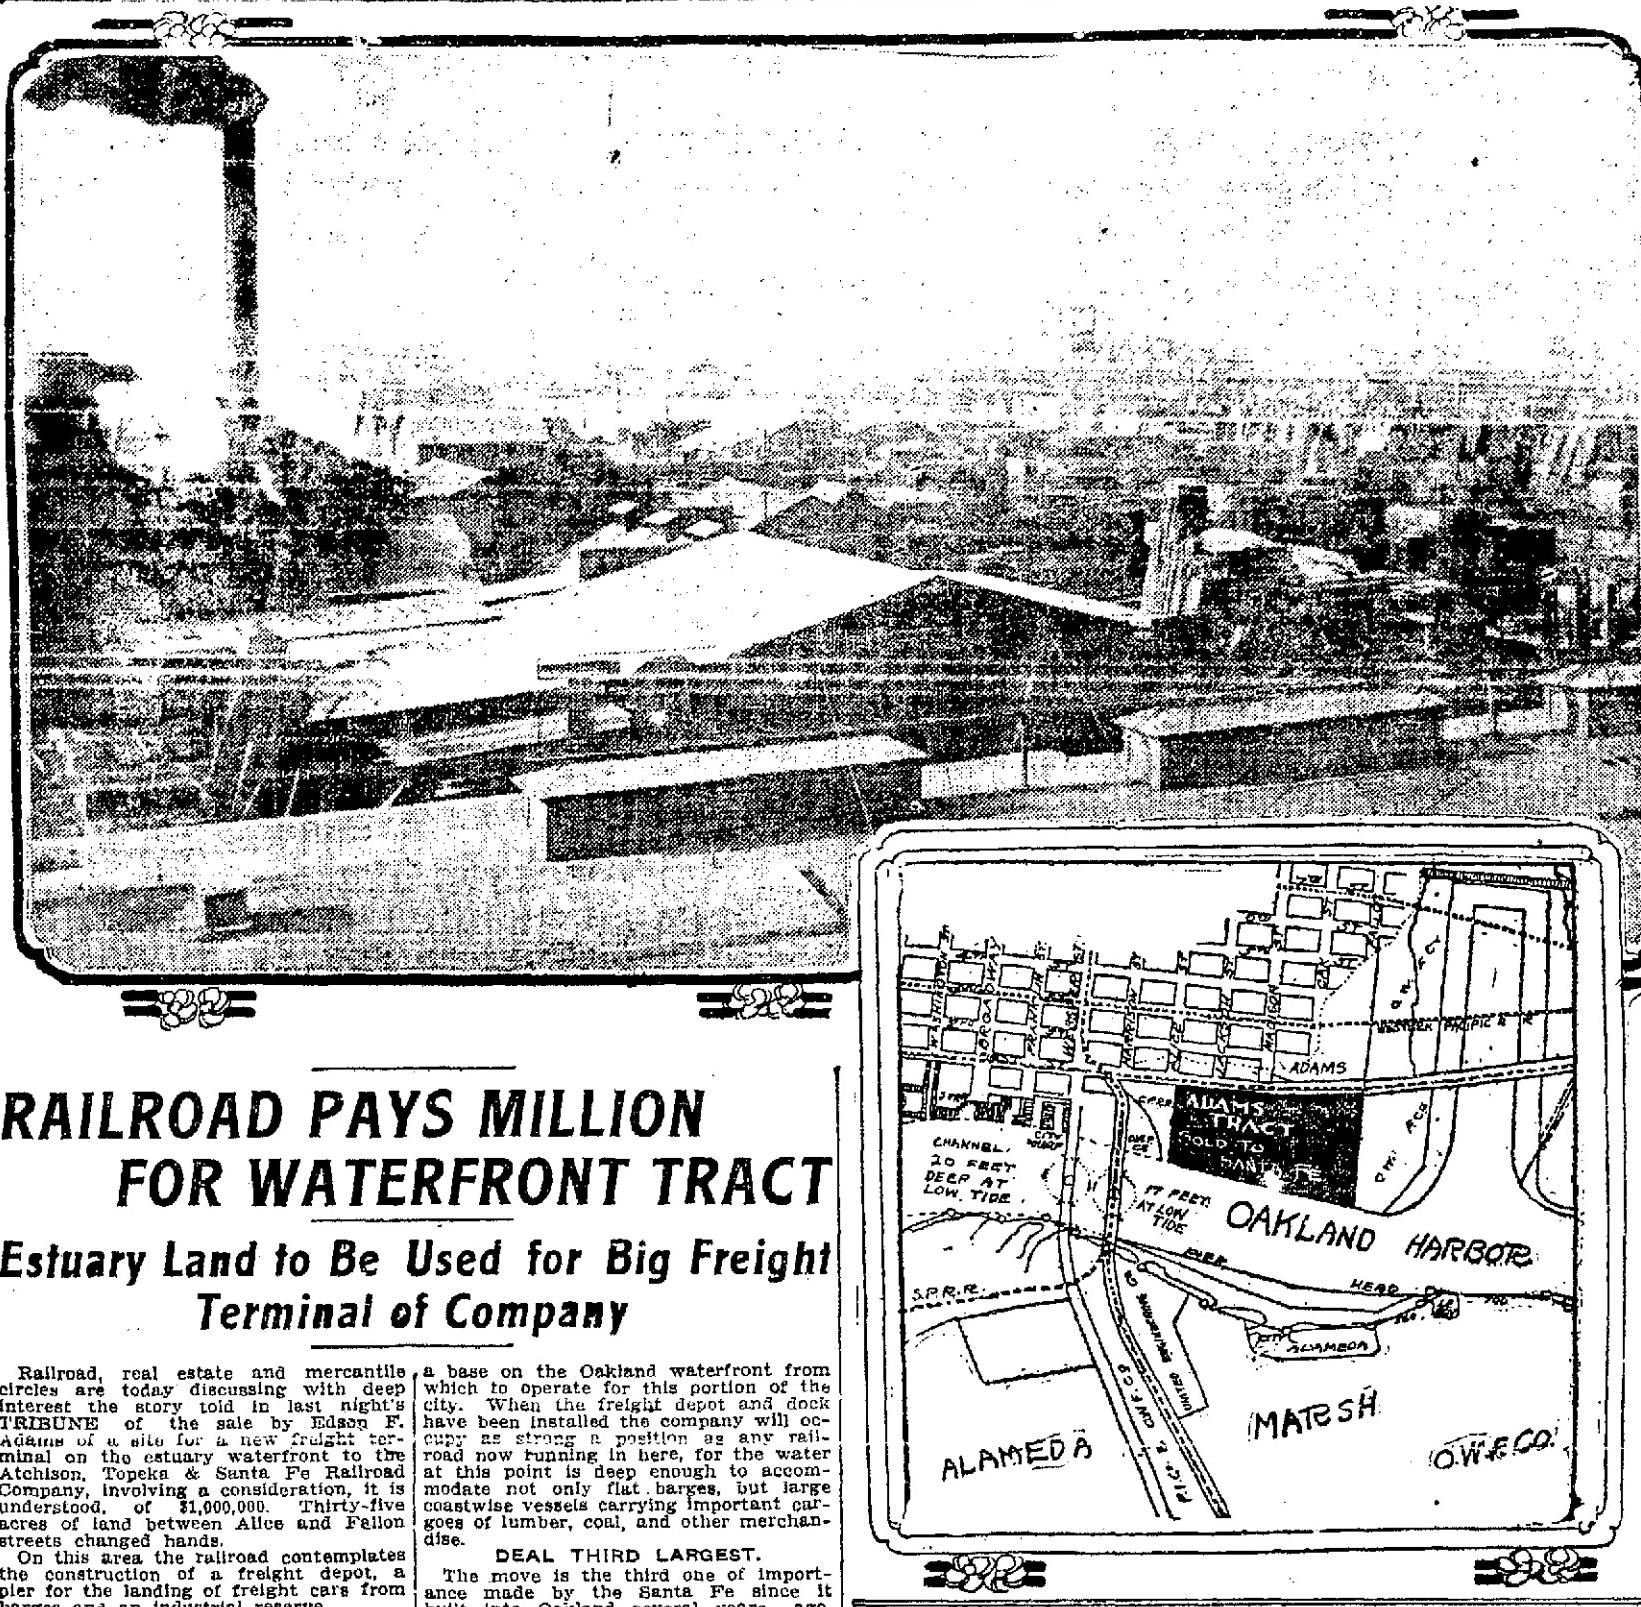

Toys and books of dolls, some German, some from the Fatherland, and some perfect reproductions from France and England.

A Silverstein's array well calculated to bring joy to any child here—and the grown-ups, too, will take great pleasure in looking over this department, which is as fine as any on the Pacific Coast.

The newest new department only open a few days ago, delayed because of imported toys to be forwarded from Europe.

SANTA FE COUP IS COSTLY

ONE OF THE CHOICEST PORTIONS OF OAKLAND ESTUARY WATERFRONT IS INCLUDED IN THE SALE OF A FREIGHT TERMINAL TO THE SANTA FE RAILROAD. THE PHOTOGRAPH SHOWS IN THE IMMEDIATE FOREGROUND, A PORTION OF THE PROPERTY SOLD. THE SHADED PORTION OF THE ACCOMPANYING MAP SHOWS THE LOCATION OF THE TRACT.

RAILROAD PAYS MILLION FOR WATERFRONT TRACT

Estuary Land to Be Used for Big Freight Terminal of Company

Railroad, real estate and mercantile circles are today discussing with deep interest the story of last night's TRIBUNE—the sale by Edgar F. Adams of a site for a new freight terminal on the estuary waterfront to the Atchison, Topeka & Santa Fe Railroad Company, Inc., whose total investment is understood to be $1,000,000. Thirty-five acres of land between Alameda and Fallon streets changed hands.

On this area the railroad contemplates the construction of a freight depot, a port for the landing of freight cars from barges and an industrial reserve.

The deal, which was one of the most notable that has taken place in Oakland for many years, was between Edgar Adams, controlling owner of the Adams Mercantile Company and the Santa Fe Land and Improvement Company, a subsidiary concern of the Santa Fe Industrial, industrial agent for the railroad company, and the Santa Fe. The deeds in the transaction were filed with the county recorder yesterday afternoon.

The land is not many blocks distant from the waterfront improvements already under way on the estuary front. The property is unique in that it is owned by the Santa Fe and Warehouse Company and the concerns which lease from that company. Possession is given subject to leases held by tenants. None of these leases extend beyond 1916.

TERMINAL LONG NEEDED.

It is stated by Santa Fe officials today that the deal is one of the largest that the company has ever made in this country. The Santa Fe has long needed an adequate freight terminal in this city. It will construct a large freight depot, equipped with modern appliances for handling freight rapidly.

The deal will be one of the largest in any city around the bay.

The improvements will cost another million dollars.

A plan will be constructed so that the property, may land with freight cars. There are no tracks of the Santa Fe reaching this part of the city, the company will transfer freight from the cars to the docks and reload the cars for return to the main line at Point Richmond.

The dock will be sufficient proportions to accommodate a large string of cars, and apparatus and equipment will be kept on hand for switching purposes.

It was agreed that the Santa Fe will load and haul to barge for the night on the Oakland waterfront.

The piano movers were surprised by their reception in Oakland. They had expected to find in the city a general lack of a stock of pianos from the sales of W. A. Whitaker, Twelfth and Clay streets, because the Lucore Piano Company, the owners of the stock, feared the piano might be attached for Whitaker's debts.

E. H. Miller, secretary of the Lucore company, planned the descent of the teamsters upon Oakland as a merry little jest. Before it was completed, it was necessary to file a suit for injunction against the teamsters' license being paid to Oakland teamsters and ten men were arrested for failure to comply with the city ordinance and were debarred from the city. They were to be released on $10 bail each.

Miller called Whitaker's right in an automobile and induced the salesman to take a ride to Berkeley with him in the hope of making a piano sale. Whitaker consented, and as soon as he had been lured away, the assistants with their drivers, took the piano and were set to work to remove the stock.

Whitaker's friends learned of the proceeding and attempted to stop the exodus of pianos. The police were loaned to interfere, but it was too late to do anything. But they were willing to do their best.

Licence Inspector W. A. J. Franke discovered that the ten teamsters were without Oakland during the day, so he sent on a car with a full set of license tags and disposed of them wholesale.

By this time the piano movers had started to move the stock on the vans and had started to move the piano up the estuary ferry slip. Then the police observed that the city ordinance demanding that vehicles must carry lights was being violated, and the ten drivers were arrested for violating the ordinance. They were booked at the police station and released on $10 bail each.

The piano moving had commenced about 10 o'clock, but the difficulties caused a delay which resulted in the removal of the pianos about 11 o'clock.

PLAN SURVEY OF SOCIAL CONDITIONS

Workers Meet in Oakland to Prepare for the Expeditions.

A thorough survey of social conditions about San Francisco bay is contemplated by social workers and others who met at Plymouth Center in Oakland last night to discuss methods and plans.

James E. Rogers, chairman of the section of the Commonwealth Club of San Francisco, which has undertaken already an extensive social survey, was chosen as chairman. Professor Jessica Peixotto of the social science department of the University of California was appointed chairman of a committee to summarize the various practical surveys now under way about San Francisco bay and to prepare a comprehensive plan.

Among the matters already being studied are housing conditions, the social evil, dependency and delinquency, amusement opportunities and the need of vocational guidance in the schools. About seventy social workers were invited to the meeting. The other members of Professor Peixotto's committee are Dr. C. A. Astor, Mrs. Miss Katharine Estlin of San Francisco, M. J. White of Alameda, M. Cox, Christopher Hines, Miss Ida Green and E. Hall of Oakland and Miss Mabel Weed and E. Preston of Berkeley, all actively identified with various forms of social work.

LIVERMORE, Oct. 3.—The organization of the newly formed Livermore Chamber of Commerce will be perfected at a meeting next Tuesday evening. At the second preliminary meeting held last night President J. V. The body will affiliate with other commercial organization in this end of Alameda county.

EASES CONSCIENCE; PAYS TWO-CENT DEBT

WASHINGTON, Oct. 3.—After giving personal attention to the letter of a Des Moines, Iowa, man who desired to pay his debt to the United States two cents, Secretary of the Treasury MacVeagh today removed the minimum limit of five cents on "conscience fund" contributions. The latest reads:

"On October 2nd I wrote to the Treasury: 'I have sent you 2 cents which I owe you by mistake. I were sending a little article with the mail and put a slip of paper in with it after sum time I thought I did not do right and regret so excuse me.'"

LAWRENCE CITIZENS PLAN COUNTER PAROLE

LAWRENCE, Mass., Oct. 3.—A monster parade of citizens as a counter-demonstration of the recent parades under the auspices of the Industrial Workers of the World is to be held here under the auspices of the city government. A resolution passed by the Board of Aldermen discusses at length the industrial situation, which is characterized as a crisis. At the same time, a demonstration in support of the organization is marching through the streets and displaying the American in place of the red flag of the Industrial Workers of the World. October 13 is proposed as the date of the demonstration.

A Christian Soldier on Exhibition.

Bill Flinn, political boss, street contractor and Christian soldier, is an interesting witness. His testimony given before the Clapp committee reveals the character of the man in a way that was not intended, but the revelation is none the less illuminating and instructive. Flinn admitted that up to date he had contributed more than $102,000 to Roosevelt's campaign fund. He said $25,000 was spent to carry Allegheny county, in which Pittsburg is situated, for Roosevelt at the primary election, and that 85 or 90 per cent of the total came out of his own pocket.

He admitted also that letters and telegrams had been sent in his name to John D. Archbold soliciting the Standard Oil Company's support for his Senatorial candidacy, but he denied sending the letters and telegrams. He declared that a friend of his named J. E. Splain had written them and signed Flinn's name to them without his (Flinn's) knowledge or authorization. Had Rockefeller come across as requested, of course all would have come out right and Flinn would never have turned reformer and joined in singing "Onward, Christian Soldiers," with the Bull Moose holiness band.

But Flinn had reason to suspect that William R. Hearst has in possession the letters and telegrams signed with his name sent to Archbold, and, fearing publication, he deemed it necessary to prove an alibi. He offers his friend Splain as the "goat."

The value to be placed on Flinn's veracity is disclosed by his naive account of the way he "gold-bricked" Matt Quay. He coolly told the committee that the written agreement he made with Quay and Israel W. Durham to divide the political spoils in Pennsylvania—Federal, State and municipal—was a bunco trick he played on his political partners. He denied signing the crooked contract, but as the original cannot be produced his denial rests upon his unsupported statement. Durham, like Quay, is dead, and cannot contradict his former associate.

"I never signed the agreement and never intended to sign it," said Flinn. "I sold the Senator (Quay) a gold brick." Matt Quay was not a man to be gold-bricked by a man like Flinn with an unsigned agreement. As a fact, Quay accused Flinn of breaking faith with him, and had the Legislature pass the celebrated "riper" bill which took the control of Pittsburgh's municipal government out of Flinn's hands. Public approval of that drastic measure is explained by the millions Flinn accumulated taking city contracts. When he owned the city government he piled up money at a prodigious rate.

Flinn denied, in the Roosevelt fashion, that he tried to buy the Senatorship from Boise Penrose, but he admitted that friends of his had importuned Penrose to support him. His friend Splain also wrote John D. Archbold in Flinn's name begging the support of the Standard Oil Company. Was this another of Flinn's gold brick propositions?

Accepted at his own valuation, Flinn presents a sordid spectacle—a faithless, unscrupulous man—seeking his ends by any and all means, true to nothing and nobody. He is now trying to ride into the United States Senate on the back of the Bull Moose, when his presence in that body would make Lorimer respectable and high-toned by comparison. Roosevelt ought to be proud of the Pittsburgh "dough boy."

The Bull Moosers ought to be indicted for violating the pure food law. They are presenting a ticket bearing a false label—are pirating an old and well-established trademark that is a guarantee of the quality of the goods offered, and trying to deceive the people with an inferior article sold under false pretenses.

Watsonville and Its Apple Fair.

Watsonville's apple boosters were given a hearty welcome in Oakland. We are sure any Oaklander who visits Watsonville during fair time will receive a welcome equally as hearty and perhaps more effusive. And we advise everybody who can get away to visit the apple fair. It will be well worth going to see. Watsonville hospitality, like the Pajaro valley apple, is sound to the core, and while you are enjoying it you will have the opportunity of seeing probably the finest display of apples ever presented anywhere.

The boosters made a brave show in their parade, and as they marched distributed physical evidences of the superior excellence of the Pajaro valley apple. They looked well-fed and happy, as befits people who enjoy prosperity in the largest sense and the finest of apples three meals a day the year round—not only at meals, but between meals and at all other times.

The apple and Watsonville are one and inseparable. The excellence of the one is the fame of the other, likewise the prosperity and cheerful good humor. But how could one who gets rich and fat growing and eating Pomona's fairest fruit fail to be cheerful and good-humored?

The people of California have a substantial reason for taking an active interest in the Watsonville apple fair. They should all contribute to its success. It is not merely a local harvest festival; it is in reality the annual celebration of a triumph achieved for the whole State. The Pajaro valley orchards have made California famous in Europe as an apple-growing country. They have advertised abroad the wonderful versatility of our soil and climate. The golden bellefleurs shipped from Watsonville appear on the tables of the epicures of London and Paris. They challenge the world for flavor and beauty of form. When the stranger is told that these luscious apples are grown in the same region that produces the orange, the vine, the fig and the olive in profusion, he is at once made aware that California has an ideal climate and a variety of fruit production unknown elsewhere.

The apple is the king of fruits, and the Watsonville apple is the king of its kind. It is worthy of the festival in its honor. It has brought prosperity to the most wholesome and enduring kind to the Pajaro valley and given the State fame abroad. Then hail to the Watsonville bellefleur! Hurrah for the festival in its honor! You will miss a good time if you fail to go and see it. Count THE OAKLAND TRIBUNE among the boosters for the fair and for Watsonville.

WHEN YOU CROSS THE LINE!

Taft as Roosevelt's Endorser.

Roosevelt's managers are sending out as campaign material an article laudatory of Roosevelt written for Collier's Weekly by President Taft in March, 1909. It should be accompanied by the eulogies of Taft Roosevelt delivered in 1908.

Roosevelt has done everything in his power to repudiate the witness now offered to prove his good character. And everything he says about Taft now is contradicted by what he said about him in 1908.

But Roosevelt has repudiated the estimate of Taft he gave when he presented him to the American people as his successor. Taft has likewise discovered that he was mistaken in his estimate of Theodore Roosevelt. Many other people have discovered that they made the same mistake.

Roosevelt has discovered that he was mistaken in himself. At least he has completely changed his theories of government and policy since he left the Presidential chair. He censored and approved every line of the platform on which Taft was nominated in 1908. Today he repudiates every substantial declaration of that platform as utterly as he repudiates Taft. His political opinions have changed as radically as his personal opinion of Taft.

Why, then, should he ask the American people to take him on the strength of a recommendation Taft gave him three years ago? He was not then running for President. He had not then changed his political opinions. Above all, he had not viciously assailed his former friend as a recreant and a weakling; he had not violated his pledge not to be a candidate for a third term nor proclaimed himself as the only man in the country fit to be President.

If President Taft be unworthy, as Roosevelt declares him to be, "the most pitiful character in American history," as Hiram Johnson says, why should Roosevelt want his recommendation? It was never given in support of his candidacy, and is presented now in an attempt to get votes by false pretenses, and it is worse than valueless if what Roosevelt and Johnson say about Taft is true. They denounce Taft in one breath and in the next offer him as a witness to prove Roosevelt's good character.

But what they say about Taft is not true, and well they know it. They concede Taft's moral uprightness when they offer him as a character witness for Roosevelt. Taft has not changed since he became President, but Roosevelt has, or, rather, he has showed us a new side to his chameleon character. He turns from saying any man who wears a Taft button is dishonest to offer Taft's endorsement as a proof of his own righteousness. Yet the endorsement he offers is outlawed by circumstance and altered relations. But why do Roosevelt's managers regard it as so valuable?

Alameda city has one daily paper now instead of the two she had heretofore. The Argus and Times-Star have consolidated under the ownership and management of Sherman McDowell and W. A. Grahn, both experienced in the newspaper business and familiar with the wants and conditions of the local field. The consolidated journal will be called the Times-Star and Argus. It ought to be a better paper than either of the journals it succeeds, for a field hardly large enough to support two good papers is frequently able to support one really first-class journal. THE TRIBUNE hopes the publishers of the Times-Star and Argus will succeed to the full measure of their anticipations. They deserve to succeed, and we know they will strive to give Alameda a bright, wide-awake, newsy daily newspaper. But they cannot give Alameda the kind of a newspaper she should have unless their efforts are seconded by the inhabitants of the town. A newspaper cannot live on air, hence the quality of a newspaper usually depends upon the character of support given it by its constituency.

Messrs. McDowell and Grahn will give Alameda as good a newspaper as they can afford to print.

"Whenever I was hard up I went back to Perkins." Senator Dixon, Roosevelt's campaign manager told the Clapp committee. Perkins is certainly entitled to be called the dough moose of the campaign.

Stealing Counties and Cities

Vote against Section 7, Article XI, proposed amendment of the constitution of California, at the general election November 6.

If that amendment is carried, San Francisco will take a big slice from five counties, absorb Oakland, Berkeley and Alameda, and have the authority to extend her boundary lines as far in any direction as it is necessary to get any rich community within juxtaposition. To vote for that amendment is making law without the legislature, and if carried there is no recourse except to amend the constitution. The governor cannot veto it, nor can the Supreme Court render it invalid. It becomes law absolute.

There is every reason in the world why San Francisco should wish to get hold of Oakland. At the present rate of growth Oakland will soon surpass San Francisco, and from a San Franciscan's viewpoint such a condition would be tragic. Also, Los Angeles is rapidly overtaking California's leading city and it would poison San Francisco's pride to be relegated to second place.

But there are good reasons why Stockton should be apprehensive in all owing such cities as San Francisco and Los Angeles the privilege of absorbing the neighboring population. It would not take long for these two cities to practically control the state legislature, and all of the senators and assemblymen from lesser cities would stand in the ante-room cracking their heels together while Los Angeles and San Francisco divided up the state appropriations. Stockton would get about as much as at the last session of the legislature.

Here is what would happen. The proposed amendment would make it possible for the politicians of the so-called "Greater San Francisco" and a "Greater Los Angeles" to combine and dominate the state completely. That would be represented in the senate by thirty-eight out of a total of eighty members, and in the senate by nineteen out of a total of forty members, rendering the state for all practical purposes, incapable of controlling the state of California.

Purely as a matter of self preservation, every citizen in every county in the state, naturally excepting Los Angeles and San Francisco, who are to profit by the change, should vote against that amendment.—Stockton Mail.

POINTED PARAGRAPHS

But optimism is a good asset if it isn't overworked.

Happiness often depends on the things we don't do.

If all the epitaphs had to be truthful it would be better to leave some tombstones blank.

Some men are born poor, some achieve poverty and others meet up with a frenzied financier.

The mother-in-law usually has a good deal to say, but about all the poor old father-in-law has to do is to pay the freight and say nothing.—Chicago News.

BACHELOR MUSINGS

Optimism is mostly recklessness.

The one thing a conceited man is surest about is that he isn't.

People have hysterics and think it is temperament.

There's a lot to be seen at the seashore besides the shore.

You can tell a man who picks good company by how lonesome he is.

The strangest thing about good people is how ashamed of it they can be.

A woman judges a man by his manners; a man a woman by her morals; therefore all the trouble.

FIREMEN PLAN TO INSPECT SCHOOLS

Chief Ball Will See That the Children Are Properly Protected.

Regular inspection of the school buildings and fire equipment by Fire Chief Nicholas A. Ball is to be instituted under orders from Commissioner of Public Health and Safety Fred C. Turner for the protection of the school children. Turner explained that he had attended an inspection of the Piedmont school during fire drill and had watched over 600 pupils leave the building in perfect order in fifty-seven seconds.

"I thought the council would be glad to know that hereafter the fire department will make regular visits to the schools and see that the conditions are as they should be for fire protection," Turner explained. "We intend to see that the school children are carefully guarded in this respect."

RIDING HANDLE BARS

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Oct. 3.—No more riding on handle bars or astride the rear wheel of motorcycles.

An ordinance passed by the upper house of the council prescribes a fine of $10 for that offense. And it is an offence, Alderman Taylor told the house, also a danger.

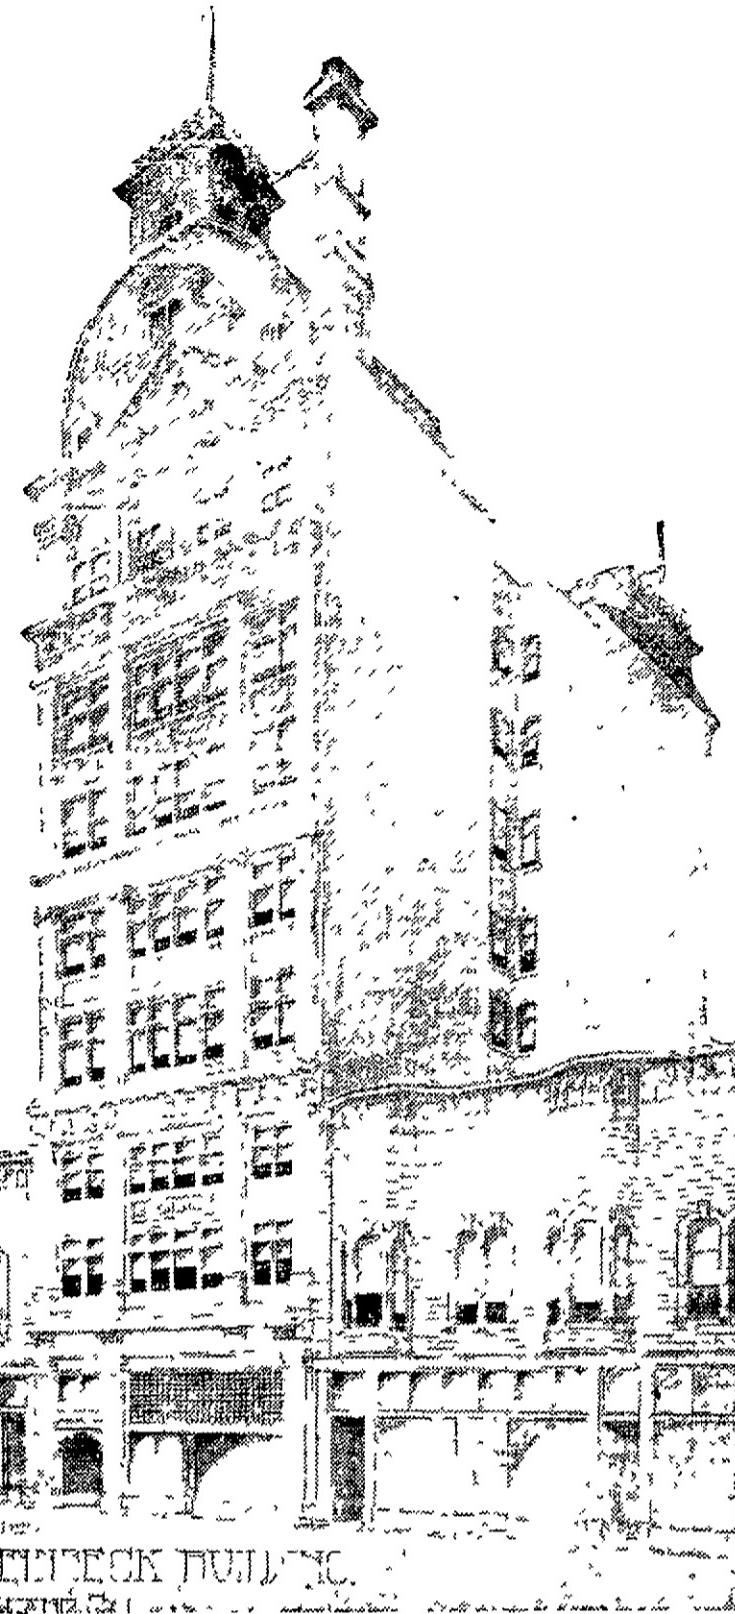

The alderman did not say his sense of propriety was shocked by the sight of young women on the handle bars or astride the rear wheel, but he was sure the man operating the motorcycle was unable to exercise proper care or discretion when so hampered.

The other aldermen agreed with him. It is expected the mayor will approve the ordinance.

LAST CHAPTER IN ECCLESTON CASE

Attorneys for Defense Score Point in Today's Hearing.

The concluding chapter in the trial of the damage suit for $25,000 begun by Mauds Johnson Eccleston against her brother-in-law, Charles Hudson Eccleston, was entered today when attorneys for the defense succeeded in having read into the record the divorce complaint brought by the husband, Louis Eccleston, and her counter charges upon which she was granted a decree.

The defense counted strongly upon the divorce suit complaints to disprove the charge of Mrs. Eccleston that her brother-in-law alienated her husband's affections and was responsible for his separation.

The complainant and cross-complainant showed that the husband accused his wife of endeavoring to ruin his reputation amongst his Fresno business associates by spreading false reports about his character and financial standing, while she in return retaliated by accusing him of extreme cruelty and of boasting of his relations with a Mrs. Elizabeth Stilphen. The wife's cross-complaint bristled with quotations from her husband to the effect that she "had a right which he had no right to have" that "she was banished him marrying her" and similar declarations.

The case is expected to go to the jury either late this afternoon or tomorrow morning.

CAPTAIN LOVE SAFE IN BENEDICK HARBOR

Another coast pilot has joined the ranks of the Benedicks, the latest addition being Captain Charles Love of the tug boat who last night married Miss Jessie Anderson, a belle of Humboldt county. It has long been rumored that the popular skipper had been ensnared by Cupid but Love always jokingly denied the statement.

Several months ago Captain Love left for Eureka on a "purely business trip" but his many friends at this port thought otherwise.

Love is one of the best known and most popular skippers. He has been identified with this port for many years and has a host of friends both here and in San Francisco. The marriage of the couple was the result of a romance which originated two years ago in San Francisco. At the time the Portola festival was in full swing Love saved his present bride from a gang of toughs who were rudely showering her with confetti. Later he was introduced. A courtship followed which culminated in the wedding last night. Mrs. Love has a mother and several sisters residing in Berkeley. She is well known in society circles in the north as well as here.

400 REVOLVERS ARE DUMPED IN LAKE

CHICAGO, Oct. 3.—Captain Kidd had nothing on Police Custodian De Witt C. Clegg, as he set sail from the Clark street bridge on board police boat No. 2 with as gruesome a cargo as ever went out of the river's mouth. It represented one year of police pickings and coldly listed as follows:

Revolvers—Three bushels (400 separate pieces).

Knives and razors—One case.

Rifles—One dozen.

Dynamite—Four pounds.

With this glittering and ominous array of death-dealing devices on his shelves Clegg became uneasy. He called a patrol wagon and began his annual house cleaning. Police boat No. 2 was chartered and an hour later swept out of the river to pour its shiniest libation upon the bosom of Lake Michigan.

The "smoke wagons" and dirks have been "rustled" from the foes of society in less than a year. The dynamite was seized in a raid on a barn a few months ago. The police handled the explosive gingerly in transferring it from Clegg's office to the wagon and thence to the boat.

"There's many a good gun in the bottom of the lake," said the custodian, but the law is firm on this point. We have confiscated this shooting gallery, and now we must consign it to the deep."

RICHMOND NOTES.

The Red Cross will give a grand ball on the evening of the 26th, for which extensive preparations are being made.

The West Side Women's Improvement Club is making arrangements for the production of a farce comedy to be given Friday evening at the theater next week, for the benefit of their club building fund.

"Monuments of San Francisco" will be the topic of an address to be given by Mrs. F. A. Mohr before the Club soon at the home of Mrs. T. C. Crammer this afternoon. Mrs. E. Mrs. Crammer will be assisted in entertaining by Mrs. Robert McCreary.

Winchowsky's volunteers fire department will give the annual dance at East Shore Park Saturday evening.

The canal to be constructed jointly by the city and the Standard Oil company will be 1,100 feet wide, 100 feet deep, 20 feet wide and a mile in length. It will admit of the entry of many boats of considerable size and a small amount of dredging in time to make the canal ready for the refueling.

Because of the California, the Pacific Coast and Richmond were the most delightful and attractive spots they had ever seen, said Mr. and Mrs. George W. and Mrs. John G. Kondon, recently returned from a vacation in California. At dinner at Kondon's restaurant, 1111 Franklin Street, they were joined by Mr. and Mrs. Frank L. and Mrs. John G. Kondon.

CAR CREW HELD UP IN DARK

Nervous Bandit Commits Crime at Fourth Avenue Line Terminus

Amateur Robber Obtains $24 and Leaves Scattered Coins Behind

Taking advantage of the darkness when the trolley was being switched at the lonely terminus of the Fourth avenue line, a bandit last night held up A. C. Kripp, conductor, and J. Hirvi, motorman, taking $24 in change. The bandit, who was armed with a large revolver and carefully masked, appeared to be nervous and excited and dropped some of the money on taking it from his victim. The man fled precipitately after obtaining the money.

The hold-up occurred at 10:20 o'clock last night, but was not reported to the police until fifteen minutes later. The bandit chose a point at which several robberies have been committed in the past two years, but it is believed by his manner that he must have been an amateur at the work, as he showed such great nervousness and excitement while near the car.

HIDES BEHIND POLE.

Kripp, the conductor, was switching the trolley while Motorman Hirvi was dropping the fender on the other end of the car. As Kripp pulled the trolley from the wire, thus throwing the car in darkness, the bandit suddenly emerged from behind a pole and commanded Kripp in a low tone of voice to go to the other end of the car and join his companion. Holding his arms above his head Kripp obeyed.

The bandit talked in a peculiar tone of voice, as though he had placed cotton in his nostrils, giving his voice a nasal sound. With shaking hand he took the money from Kripp's pockets and started to open the money box "changer" on the car. In doing so he had to look toward the box, thus taking his eyes from the two men. A few coins were scattered on the ground and the bandit abandoned his attempt to remove all the money. He obtained about $24.

FEET AND LEGS SMALLER! OH, YES!

Man With a Wife States Positively That Feet Are Not Growing.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 2.—Say! It's darn libel. At least as far as Philadelphia girls are concerned. Reference is made to a statement in the American Wool and Cotton Reporter that American girls are getting bigger feet and bigger legs. That's right, Legs. This is not a story about trees. The Philadelphia variety is all right, and this can be proved.

It seems that there were two sources of inspiration for this story. One was that Chicago girls had extended their feet and grown plumper of leg. This involved the increase in the size of stockings. They've increased the size of stockings, but, but not for the same reason. The Philadelphia girls' feet are just as tiny as they ever were.

The second source of inspiration was Philadelphia buyers who found that their ladies did not stretch as well as cotton, and ordered his stock made wider. You see cotton and silk will stretch over a calf and fit snug, but lace won't. It has no resilience. When you try to stretch it it tears.

That's what started the rumpus, and led to the story that American girls have bigger feet and legs than they used to have. It was attributed to athletics, but a woman who is expert on the subject, interviewed yesterday, said that athletes had the opposite tendency, namely, to develop the leg muscles and reduce the fat, and therefore the condition. In other words, exercise causes disappearance and give place to angles. True, the exercise is likely to make the feet bigger at the same time.

Close investigation showed that Philadelphia girls are not involved in this large-legs-feet-at-all. They haven't big feet. They have the smallest of any girls on earth, and we are strong for this charity thing, bigosh, and are going to send by 'em as far as the law will hold. Girls are still as young, and the car steps are still a bit high, and besides we have the testimony of our wife that it's all a darn lie. The legs are all right yet.

Then came the demand for a big stocking concern was discovered, and declared it to be a fact that larger stockings are sold now than ever before. But he said that it was due to the fact that girls are getting more sensible.

"We're not so shy and modest," he said, "that they were ashamed to ask for stockings that fit. But they are not so particular now, and demand comes first. The girl who would formerly take a regular stock hose now demands an odd extra size. It doesn't tear so easily, and feels better."

And upon the testimony of a woman who is the expert of one of the big department store hosiery departments, the girl who needs a 10 or 12 inch stocking under a No. 6 can fit. She would, however, but the small size and either suffer torture with the heel if it doubled up under her foot, or poke her pink toe an inch or two in the front, while the girl on the girl who owns a 12 inch leg and not a 10 will go plumb bust from under stretching.

But she has learned that it is wiser to buy stockings that fit, and now, instead of buying them in couple of sizes too small, she buys them half a size too large.

DEER IS STRUCK AND KILLED BY AUTOMOBILE

HACKENSACK, N. J., Oct. 1.—Daniel R. O'Neil's motor car followed a deer so closely that it ran in front of the car and was found dead where it was run down. The deer was a doe.

Mr. O'Neil, who lives at 700 Flushing Avenue, Hackensack, was on his way home from Paterson and Oliver Street when he saw the deer. He stopped his car and reached out and tried to catch the deer. The deer ran him over and he was hit in the face. The deer was hit in the front and was arrested at the scene.

WATSONVILLE BOOSTERS GUESTS OF OAKLAND; TELL OF BIG APPLE SHOW

SOME OF THE PAJARO VALLEY BOOSTERS WHO INVADED OAKLAND YESTERDAY TO ADVERTISE THE APPLE SHOW TO BE HELD AT WATSONVILLE.

Nearly 500 boosters from the Pajaro valley paraded in Oakland yesterday to the music of the Watsonville city band of thirty pieces, and the St. Francis Orphanage band from the Catholic college, near Watsonville, heralding the coming California Apple Show, to be held at Watsonville October 7 to 12.

Headed by A. D. Stoesser and H. F. Rodman, the green duster army, as it is called because of the chosen costume of green trimmed with red, marched through the principal streets of Oakland, led by Chief of Police Petersen and his aides, dispensing apples to the spectators along the line of march. One carload, or 90,000 apples, are being given away by the boosters in the different places where stops are made.

The following reception committee welcomed the Pajaronians to Oakland: W. F. Gibson, president of the chamber of commerce; A. A. Denison, E. A. Leach Jr., George H. Mason, D. H. Bradly, J. B. Jordan, L. Richardson, Paul Goldsmith and W. D. Nichols.

The Boosters' trip has become one of the big features preceding the opening of the California Apple Show at Watsonville, and this is its third invasion of the bay cities. They have a special train and make stops at nearly all the cities along the way.

Suffragette Prisoner Released on Parole

Gladys Evans Must Report to Authorities During Remainder of Strike.

DUBLIN, Oct. 2.—The "hunger strike" brought about the parole from jail today of another militant suffragette, Gladys Evans. The prison doctor gave the parole order to Miss Evans, the condition of health had become very grave and the order releasing her on "license" was issued this morning.

Miss Evans will be compelled to report periodically to the authorities during the remainder of the term of five years to which she was sentenced on August 5 on the charge of setting fire to the Theater Royal here the day before Premier Asquith was to speak in the theater on home rule.

Broker Accused of Theft of $100,000

BOSTON, Oct. 2.—Stephen R. Dow, head of Stephen R. Dow & Co. brokers, which failed a few days ago, was arrested today on a warrant charging him with the larceny of $100,000 from the Franklin Mining Company.

HIDES MONEY WHILE ASLEEP; CAN'T FIND IT

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Oct. 3.—The curious psychology of a sleeping mind is involved in the case of Albert Preissler, who, because of his inability to remember what he had done with $200 in his sleep, was accused of grand larceny and released under suspended sentence because of his past good reputation. The money was found in a safe at the Preissler home by his wife.

Preissler was given $300 to keep for Jewett Jones, a friend. Preissler took it home and hid it in a couch near his bedside. The next day it was missed and in his fright at the loss he left for Wabash, Ind., to see his father and obtain a loan to make good the loss. He was arrested in Peru.

When asked, Preissler told his story, but it was labeled improbable.

Judge Collins, however, had faith in Preissler's paying back the amount if given time, and made arrangements for him to do so at the rate of $25 a month. His wife found the money when she removed the globe from a fancy table lamp that has long been out of use.

CAUGHT IN SPOKES OF WHEEL; DIES OF INJURIES

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 3.—William McNamee, 18 months old, of 136 Wickard street, while riding a bicycle crashed into a heavy iron truck on Belmont street near Lawrence and was dragged under the truck. The boy was a victim of a wheel which had come off a truck. The driver knew he had struck the child. The boy was taken to the Episcopal hospital and died without recovering consciousness.

He was born at 12:30 a.m. on Aug. 20.

The child was born at 12:30 a.m. on Aug. 20.

OAKLAND TRIBUNE

New York Bloodless Compared to Others

San Francisco Leads in Murder Percentage; 10.4 Is Figure.

NEW YORK, Oct. 3.—Seven out of about every 100,000 New Yorkers are murdered, according to figures gathered by an insurance journal here. The statistics covering a score of the larger cities of the country show, however, that New York is a very good place compared with other American communities. The rate of homicides per 100,000 of population for some of the other cities is as follows:

Washington, 10.2; Chicago, 9.1; San Francisco, 10.4; St. Louis, 15.5; Nashville, 35.3; Savannah, 37.8; Charlotte, N. C., 42.3; Memphis, Tenn., 63.4. In England and Wales in 1909, with a population of 37,758,000, the percentage of homicides was only 0.8.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 3.—The seal pack in the Alaskan waters is the largest in approximately fifteen years, with the exception of one year, according to Commissioner of Fisheries Bowers, who, in his annual report, will show that there are 90,000 more seals in the rookeries up in the Bering region than were there last year. Of these the females increased from 39,400 to 81,934. Bowers attributes this big increase to the suspension of pelagic sealing, over which a bitter controversy has been waged before Congressional committees.

Alaskan Seal Pack Largest in 15 Years

Ninety Thousand More in Rookeries in Bering Region Than Last Year.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 3.—Having failed to find more than fifteen children in Douglaston, Long Island, one of the outlying villages included within the limits of Greater New York, of the proper age to attend a kindergarten, the citizens of the place will offer prizes to any one who will furnish three more children to attend school in order that the salary of the teacher may be paid by the board of education of New York. A state law provides that a city kindergarten must have at least eighteen children.

AGED WOMAN MUST SUE FOR 35 YEARS' WAGES

WASHINGTON, Oct. 3.—Mrs. Kate Coombs, who for the last 35 years has minded the sheets which are used to cover the money-making machines of the bureau of engraving and printing when they are not in operation, stowed all her vouchers away in a trunk and has never made an effort to cash any of them. There is a statute which provides that if government pay vouchers are not cashed within two years after they are issued they become null and void. Mrs. Coombs, therefore, will have to appeal to other agencies than the disbursing officer of the bureau to collect payment for the services which she has performed during all these years. Mrs. Coombs is nearly 80 years old. She receives $10 a month in the government service, but has other sources of income.

Wanted: Children; Reward Is Offered

Douglaston, Long Island, Wants New York Teacher.

NEW YORK, Oct. 3.—Having failed to find more than fifteen children in Douglaston, Long Island, one of the outlying villages included within the limits of Greater New York, of the proper age to attend a kindergarten, the citizens of the place will offer prizes to any one who will furnish three more children to attend school in order that the salary of the teacher may be paid by the board of education of New York. A state law provides that a city kindergarten must have at least eighteen children.

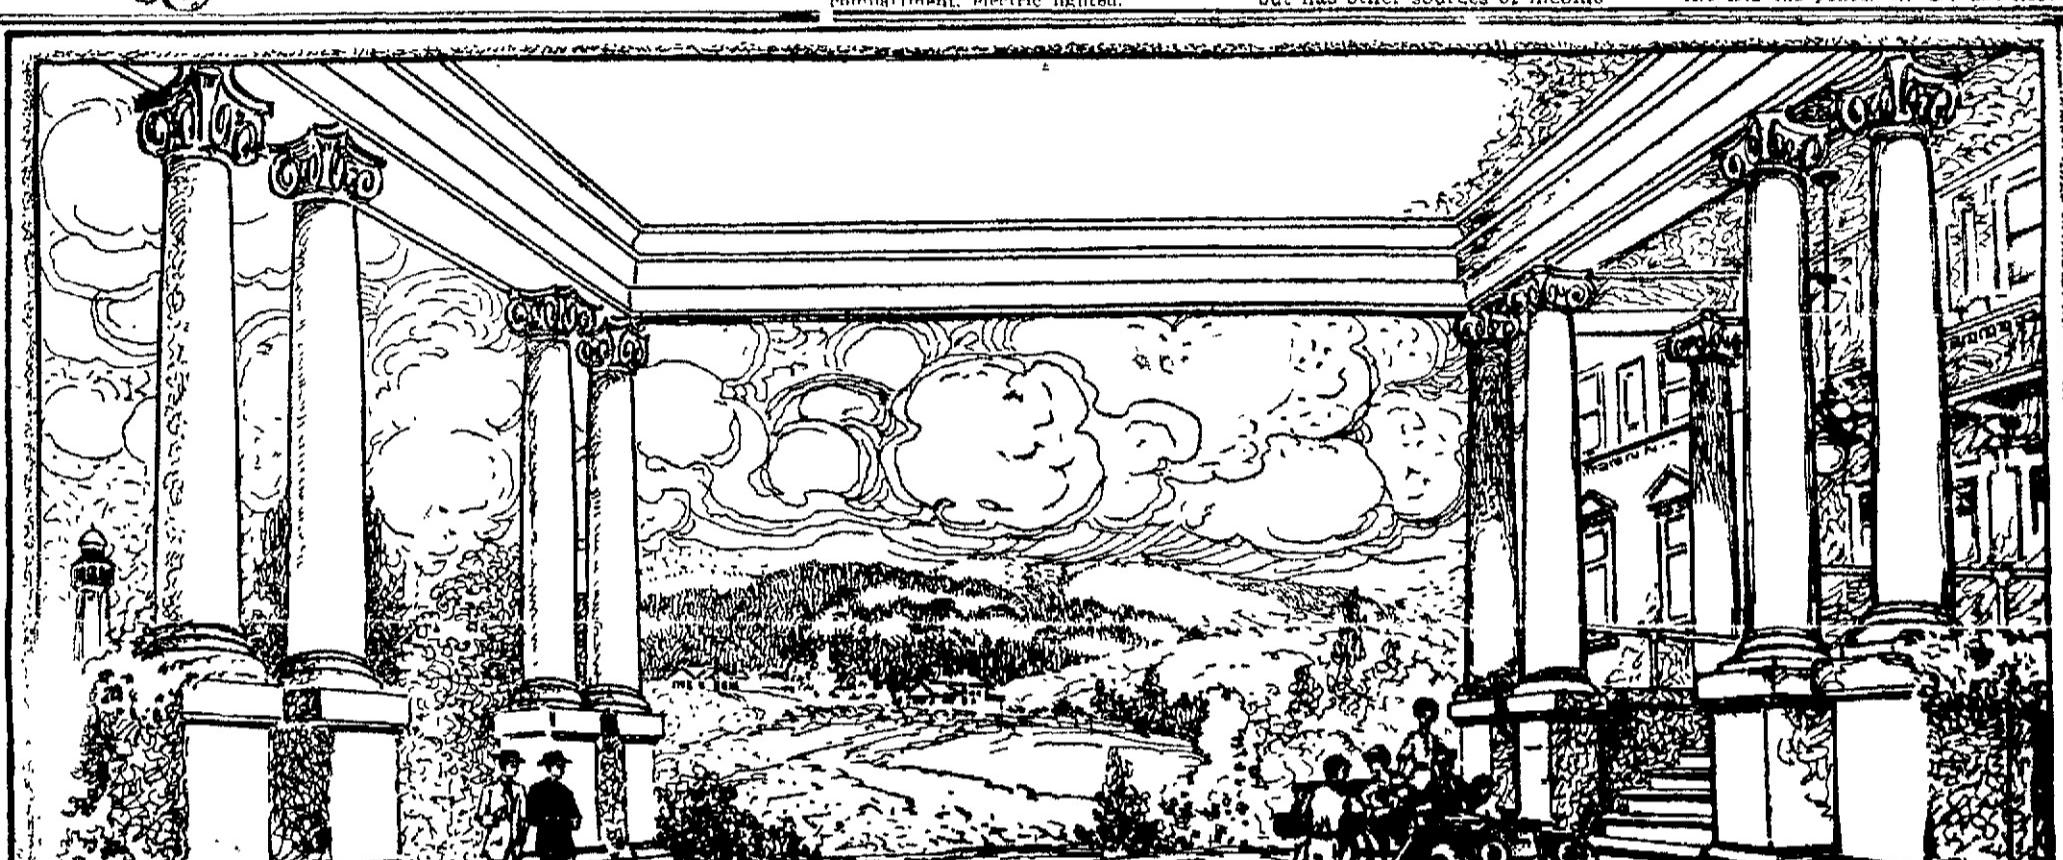

REAR EXIT IS PLACE TO LOOK FOR WIFELY

WASHINGTON, Oct. 3.—An ex-itee rushed up to the front of a movie picture theater the other night and informed the young woman in the window that his wife was in the place with another man and that he was going to shoot both of them.

A crowd collected and the young woman pointed the man. The latter, wishing to avoid bloodshed, mounted the stage and announced that the man was willing to give his wife and the man with her. He suggested that the man leave by the rear exit. Within ten minutes the pair hurried from the theater by the back door.

ORDERS FLORAL EMBLEM FOR LIVING WIFE

SIOUX CITY, Ia., Oct. 3.—Wife Mrs. Lloyd Wilder learned her husband had arranged with the undertaker for her funeral and had ordered a "Rest in Peace" floral emblem from the florist, she told the police. Wilder has fled.

—A serious talk to home builders

The preparation of buying a lot upon which to build a home has many angles.

In the first place, from an investment standpoint, the lot, if in Alameda county, should be close-in, because there will always be plenty of far-out lots to supply the demand.

The type of property that increases in value is the scarce property, the hard-to-get kind, and the scarce residential property on this side of the bay in the future will be the close-in property—Outlying properties will always be plentiful and will spread out, if necessary, all along the foothills to Niles.

Ardsley Heights, the new subdivision which we formally open Sunday next, is one of the few unsold close-in tracts—it is exactly 11 minutes by electric car from 12th and Broadway.

It is closer to the center of town than Fortieth and Broadway.

In the second place the lot should not cost more than half the amount you expect to pay for your home. If you are going to erect a $4000 home, then get a lot for $2000 or less. The lots in Ardsley Heights run even less than half the agreed building restrictions—this is a great advantage in favor of this particular subdivision.

In the third place, if buying direct of the subdivision company at opening sale prices (as is the case with Ardsley Heights) you should have some assurance that the lots adjoining yours are being sold to BONA FIDE HOME BUILDERS and not to out-of-town and local speculators, contractors, etc. Your house alone will not make the neighborhood—Ardsley heights is being sold to people who expect to build, and by the time your house is started there will probably be several others finished or under way—This means an immediate increase in front foot values which is VERY important to you.

In the fourth place you must find a lot that will not be too expensive to build upon—Retaining walls, high foundations, grading, filling garden soil, etc., cost money and frequently after a lot is purchased it is found that the extra cost alone amounts to half the price you've paid for your lot—in Ardsley Heights the lots are scenic and yet they're all quite level—You get a fine view and still avoid the necessity of building a skyscraper in the back and a bungalow in front.

In fact you will find, if you will take time to investigate that Ardsley Heights is just about what you've been looking for.

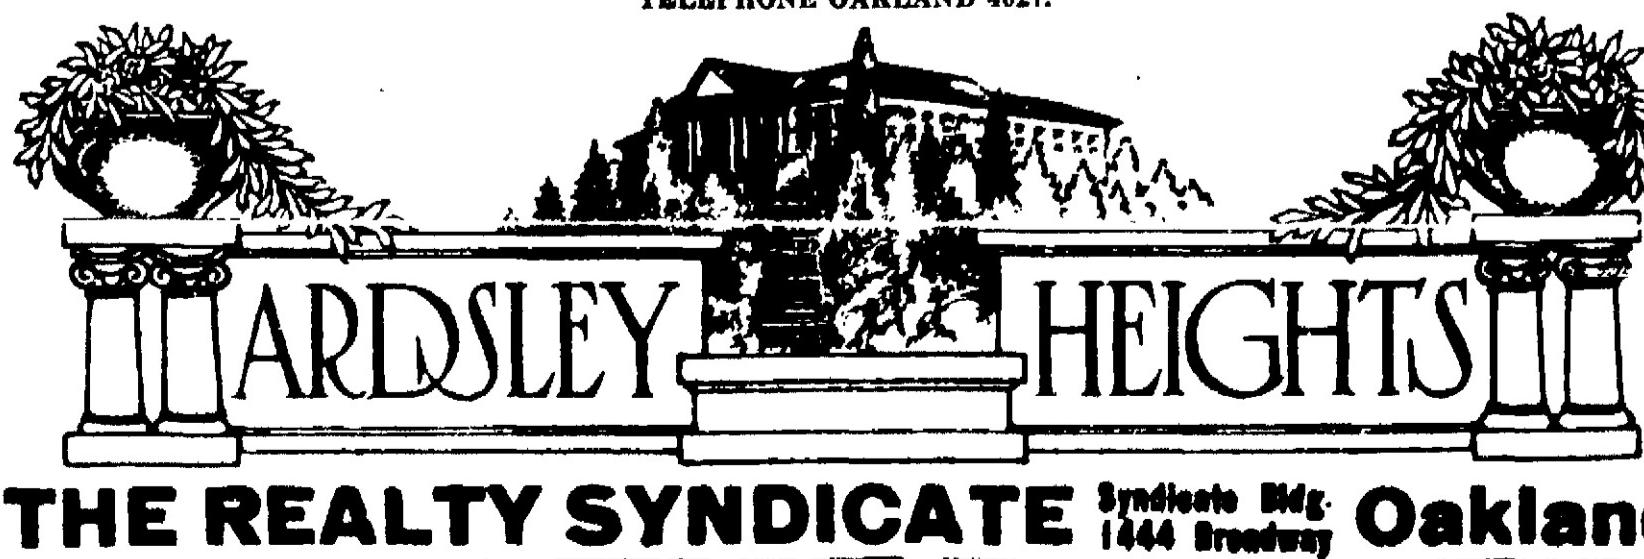

There is the certainty that the lot will increase in value faster than your house will decrease—there is the great advantage of close proximity to the business district—the opening sale prices are lower than those upon any similar property anywhere this side of the bay—and the lots are all practical for building and gardening purposes—

If you feel interested we should prefer to have you call at the office before you visit the property, so that some one who is accurately informed may go out with you—There is a $200,000 boulevard now being built which will give Ardsley Heights a magnificent approach, which feature can best be described by taking you over the ground in our automobiles.

AN INTERESTING POINT

The salesmen of the Realty Syndicate do not work on a commission—You get these lots direct at the rock bottom net price—You are not bothered with repeated calls and persistent follow ups. We simply ask the opportunity to show you Ardsley Heights, after which you may draw your own conclusions, take your own time and do your own investigating in your own way—We realize this is quite radical from the usual methods, but it pays just the same.

"I'LL TELL PLENTY ON STAND"-T. R.

Colonel at Oyster Bay Silent
as to Campaign Funds.

OYSTER BAY, N. Y., Oct. 3.—Incredulous citizens, most of brick camped in the west and south Colonel Roosevelt returned last night to Oyster Bay for a single day of rest. The former President will start out early Monday morning to New York. After a conference with his leaders, he will go to Washington to testify before the Senate committee investigating campaign contributions.

"I've got some ammunition for the selection," the Colonel said, at Sagamore Hill.

"Not one thing has been brought out in all this investigation that I cannot air fully. I have the opportunity to do so on the stand."

The Colonel had no intimation as to what he would tell the committee. He declined to discuss the evidence which they had collected in connection with the 1904 campaign.

"I'll dispose of all that when I get before the Committee," was all he would say.

The Colonel will motor into New York late in the afternoon to confer with William A. Frerckergast, George R. Perkins and Frank A. Munsey over plans for his invasion of the Middle West next week.

"I'm not prophesying anything as to the ultimate result. I'm a fighter, not a prophet."

TAHOE SUIT IN U. S. COURT.
PLACERVILLE, Oct. 3.—The Superior Court has granted the request of the Stone & Webster Construction Company and the Truckee River General Electric Company that the suit brought against them by the Western Company and other holders of property on Lake Tahoe be removed to the United States Circuit Court of the District of Northern California.

EUROPE DEMANDS CALIFORNIA FRUIT

More Than 60,000 Tons of the Canned Product on Way to Old World.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 3.—When the Christmas holidays are celebrated in the different countries of Europe, the products of California will form one of the principal items of consumption.

According to figures prepared and submitted by General Traffic Agent C. A. Hooper of the American-Hawaiian Steamship Company, sixty thousand tons of California canned and dried fruits are being shipped across the Atlantic this year.

As this estimate is based only upon a portion of the tonnage which is being sent across the continent via railroad in addition to that dispatched by steamer the company's Teahupoo route, it is believed that the tonnage may exceed this calculation.

The development of the fruit exports from this state to Europe has undergone a marked change during the past two years, and particularly since the final elimination of the speculators who formerly handled nearly all of the California products handled.

These speculators were in the habit of purchasing stock in the lowest possible figure and then feeding them to the market as was required.

This system resulted in loss to numerous European buyers who stocked up heavily, that they were unable to dispose of the fruit until the price was over. Most of the orders are now being supplied directly to the trade and the goods are said to be reaching the consumers as fast as they can be shipped.

It is believed that the California fruit is obtaining fully as big prices as in former years, it is said that the price in Europe has been considerably reduced, owing to the elimination of the middleman and speculator.

This is resulting in a better demand for the products, until the state is now assured of a certain market for a large portion of the production which up to this time had looked upon as a surplus which could scarcely be disposed of at any price.

The result of this is expected to bring about a better condition among the fruit growers, who will now no longer be compelled to search for a market.

LOAN SHARKS LOSE IN LOS ANGELES COURT

SACRAMENTO, Oct. 3.—Loan sharks and collection agencies, who collected a large sum of money from the city, were given a knockout jolt by Judge Monroe yesterday, when he declared from the bench that a wife and babies have first call on a man's pay envelope and the collection men must wait.

The decision was made in the separate maintenance suit of Mrs. Marian Dunn against her husband, Frank Arthur Dunn, an employee of the city water department. Dunn agreed to give his wife $50 each month for the support of herself and children and to settle the demands of his creditors after payment of the balance of his $100 a month salary, thus making his ruling Judge Monroe said.

"No wife should be left to the charity of friends. A man should pay his debts and not fail in the clutches of his creditors. But at the same time his wages should not be taken by garnishment proceedings when his wife and babies need all the money he can earn."

The Colonels had no intimation as to what he would tell the committee. He declined to discuss the evidence which they had collected in connection with the 1904 campaign.

"I'll dispose of all that when I get before the Committee," was all he would say.

The Colonels will motor into New York late in the afternoon to confer with William A. Frerckergast, George R. Perkins and Frank A. Munsey over plans for his invasion of the Middle West next week.

"I'm not prophesying anything as to the ultimate result. I'm a fighter, not a prophet."

GOULD ROAD SHOPS READY IN JANUARY

SACRAMENTO, Oct. 3.—It is the intention of the Western Pacific to have its shops in this city completed by January of next year, and to immediately place a force of approximately 200 men at work on the construction of the machinery that will be used in maintaining and building rolling stock.

Some of the machinery for the shop plant has already been installed. The rest will be delivered in January, and is expected to reach Sacramento in November. The rest will be on hand before the beginning of the new year.

GUESTS IN PANIC AT HOTEL BLAZE

Two Injured While Fighting Flames in Van Ness Avenue Hostelry.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 3.—Fire on the roof of the Hotel Baltimore, 1015 Van Ness avenue, at 7 o'clock last evening, scattered the guests from the dining room and the grand staircase, whereupon when the cry of "Fire" echoed through the corridors, and they scurried for the open air.

The extent of the damage was slight and was caused mostly by water. At 10:30 p.m., the proprietor of the hotel said that the total loss would be less than $1000. The flames were subdued within twenty minutes after the arrival of the firemen.

Guests at George Lathem's at 2359 Bryant street and Hermanus Thomas Heinemeyer at 1619 Folsom street were injured while fighting the flames.

Lathem fell twenty feet, but escaped with a severely cut hand. Heinemeyer also fell and sustained a number of abrasions. Both are members of the Truck 3.

LAUNCHES MUST ANSWER SIGNAL

Supervising Inspector Bulger Warns Owners of Law.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 3.—Owing to repeated complaints, Supervising Inspector of Steam Vessels John H. Bulger announced yesterday the licenses of all operators and owners of launches would be revoked if they fail to reply to whistles of steam vessels.

"There won't be any suspension of licenses," said Inspector Bulger yesterday. "If an operator of a launch or motor boat is found guilty of not replying to steamers and ferryboats when they whistle I will revoke his license in every case."

Ferryboat and steamboat captains have made many complaints that operators of launches and motor boats ignore their signals, and it is about time this was stopped before there is an accident."

The Prohibitionists have three—Mrs. Annie E. K. Bidwell, Stella B. Irvine and Lucy S. Blanchard. The Socialists have five—Jennie Ream, Rose Walker, Ida Kinney, Ethel Lynn and Mary Garbut. The Democrats have two—Mary Bourne Tucker and E. F. Foy. The Progressives have one—Mrs. Florence Collins Porter.

NEW TURN TAKEN BY HERVEY WILL CONTEST

SANTA ROSA, Oct. 3.—At the trial of the contest of the will of the late Mrs. Alice Ann Hervey yesterday afternoon District Attorney Lea read the deposition of Mrs. Wilson, widow of Mr. Hervey, who had known Mrs. Hervey for nearly 40 years, testifying that shortly before her death Mrs. Hervey told her that Wilson was her sister's son, and, as contestants, alleges that his mother cut him off as the result of undue influence, and left her property to St. Rose's Roman Catholic church.

Yesterday afternoon he testified that Mrs. Hervey had been under the care of Dr. J. W. Denny, whose name was unknown. He claimed that church influences led her to cut him off, and not his improvidence.

Judge Denny denied the motion that no evidence be admitted, but the defense said that evidence had been adduced to show that Father Cassin had influenced Mrs. Hervey.

In July of 1906 he was in command of the gunboat Bennington, which blew up in the San Diego harbor, resulting in heavy loss of life, but he was exonerated of blame in the inquiry into the defects in the gunboat's boilers, which caused the explosion.

Dr. Wiley was primarily responsible for the definition of beer and strongly advocated the strict enforcement of laws, however, he contrived to set up a stiff fight against the conclusion reached by the department and were aided by the corn-products people. UP TO CONGRESS TO DECIDE WHAT'S BEER

WASHINGTON, Oct. 3.—After mulling over the question, "What is beer?" for more than two years, the Department of Agriculture has decided that it does not know and will pass the matter up to Congress when it convenes in December.

Consumers League, which maintained the contention that beer was a beverage made of barley, malt, hops, yeast and potable water, and was about to proclaim this conclusion, and compel the brewers under the pure food and drug act to make out of these materials, if not so made to brand it imitation beer.

Mrs. Scott declared that she would pursue a policy of "hands off" in connection with the selection of her successor and added that the fight for president-general of the society would be an open battle.

Mrs. Scott said that she was led to define her position because of the numerous letters she had received from daughters throughout the country inquiring as to her preference for president-general.

SAN FRANCISCO BANKER RETURNS FROM TOUR

NEW YORK, Oct. 3.—Amadeo P. Giannini, vice president and manager of the Bank of Italy in San Francisco, has just returned from an eight months' trip in the countries of Europe, with which his bank has connections. He was in Italy four months and spent 12 days in Tripoli looking over the battlefield and studying the opportunities for business there.

He was in Tripoli in company with a correspondent of an Italian paper printed in San Francisco and that I got about easily everywhere I have no hesitation in saying, was due to my being an American. We saw Tripoli City the day after the battle of Zanzur. The life and movement in the capital astonished me. New buildings were everywhere and the streets had been improved modern water works established in Paris.

REAR ADMIRAL LUCIEN YOUNG DIES IN N. Y.

REAR ADMIRAL LUCIEN YOUNG.

WAS COMMANDANT AT MARE ISLAND

Ruptured Blood Vessel of the Stomach Given as Cause of Death.

NEW YORK, Oct. 3.—Rear-Admiral Lucien Young, formerly captain of the Mare Island Navy Yard, died here yesterday after a brief illness. A deficiency of blood brought on by a ruptured blood vessel of the stomach was given as the cause of death.

Rear-Admiral Young was attacked by illness on Tuesday evening at the Waldorf-Astoria, where he had engaged a suite upon his arrival here a week ago. His personal friend, Dr. Hermanus Baer of Mount Vernon, was summoned to attend him, and finding that the Admiral's malady was serious, he remained at the bedside throughout the night.

At the Admiral's bedside when he died were his wife and several relatives. Mrs. Frank C. Young of Lexington, Ky., wife of the Admiral's only surviving brother, had returned to-day to her home in Lexington, Ky., to arrange for a visit which Rear-Admiral Young had planned to make to Kentucky today.

Cardinal Farley, who was a close friend of the Rear-Admiral, arrived at the hotel shortly after the announcement was made that the officer was dead.

WOMEN KEEP UP WORK AGAINST PLOTTERS

ANNEXATION FINDS FEW FRIENDS IN THE STATE

New York's Mistake in Matter of Consolidation Is Cited

The Women's Auxiliary of the Alameda County League is keeping up its good work in the fight against annexation. Meetings are being arranged and much literature against annexation is being distributed where it will do the most good. Mrs. Gardner, of the auxiliary, went today to Tracy, where an important meeting is being held. She will deliver an address there and distribute much campaign literature.

Under the leadership of Mrs. Lucy Barker, of Elmhurst, an important meeting will be held there later in the month. Plans for it are now being made. Mrs. Barker will also do much work against annexation when she goes to Los Angeles to attend the annual convention of the Order of the Eastern Star. She intends to stop off at Santa Barbara for a day or two and carry on the campaign there.

At Newcastle a woman's bazaar will be held in a few days, and the Women's Auxiliary is now preparing to represent them and to distribute literature against annexation.

A Society, headed by O. F. Pease, holding a convention, a solid delegation of ladies representing the Women's Auxiliary, is at work among the Rebekahs.

KELLEY REPORTS SUCCESS.
Superior Joseph M. Kelley reported to the Alameda County League today that he was having much success in his work against the annexation amendment at Watsonville, Paso Robles and Salinas. He said he had succeeded in interesting many prominent citizens at these places, among them officials, who promised their co-operation in defeating the schemes of San Francisco and Los Angeles to gobble up surrounding communities and thus secure political domination of the state.

At Watsonville an apple fair will be held next week, and it will be made the occasion of much work by the Alameda County League representatives. Director-General Perkins has promised to permit them to be present on the fair grounds and to distribute literature there.

Noah Adair, president of the State Association of Fire Insurance Agents, has assured L. H. Clay that he would do all in his power to defeat the annexation amendment. He promised to work among the insurance men of San Bernardino and to arouse them to the importance of the campaign. Adair said to Clay:

"I am absolutely against the grab scheme proposed by the annexation amendment. It would put the balance of power too overwhelmingly in the hands of San Francisco and Los Angeles and the rest of the state would be at the mercy of these two cities."

ADDRESSES MEETING.
Bernard P. Miller addressed three meetings of women yesterday afternoon at Fruitvale. At the Laurel Club he spoke against annexation to San Francisco, and also at the Mothers' Clubs of Laurel school and of Fruitvale school No. 1. At the latter place especially the attendance was large and the interest displayed great. Some of the women complained of the present burdens of taxation, which were shown by Miller that their burdens would be very much greater if they permitted San Francisco to gobble up the cities on this side of the bay. Fruitvale would be further away from the center of government than it is now, he pointed out, and besides it would be saddled with the excessive bond issue of San Francisco.

Professor W. E. Gibson will deliver an address next Wednesday evening at Mowbray Hall, at which he will point out the fallacies contained in the arguments of those who want Oakland to be annexed to San Francisco.

INTERIOR IN FIGHT.
The press of the interior of the state continues to oppose the passage of the amendment making possible annexation of surrounding cities to San Francisco. The Peoples' Cause, of Red Bluff, made the following statement:

"The proposed amendment whose effect will be to permit San Francisco and Los Angeles to annex neighboring cities and towns, has caused much commotion in those towns, as might be expected. You naturally expect a victim to resist. But it behoves the rest of the state to see if the proposal of San Francisco and Los Angeles does not interest them also."

"There is great danger that if the annexation schemes of these two cities are successful, they will be in a position to dominate the affairs of the state of California, to the loss of the people of the interior."

"These conditions," declared one of the delegates, "are deplorable, and they are a source of shame to our city. We pay in this borough more taxes every year and we receive nothing for our money. We pay for the education of our children and yet we cannot get sufficient facilities for them and when we complain they tell us we must be satisfied with what we get. It is high time that the people of the interior should wake up."

The Alliance then decided to co-operate with other societies to continue the agitation for a change until it is secured.

The following letter has been received by W. H. Wiebey of 510 Eighth street:

"Dear Mr. Wellby: I have been out of town for a week and since my return I have been so busy that I have been unable to do anything toward looking up some anti-annexation fact, but hope to be able to obtain some information for you next week."

"There is great danger that if the annexation schemes of these two cities are successful, they will be in a position to dominate the affairs of the state of California, to the loss of

MISS EDITH KELLEY BECOMES BRIDE OF J. W. GARTHWAITE

300 SOCIETY FOLK ATTEND ELABORATE CHURCH CEREMONY

MR. AND MRS. JOHN W. GARTHWAITE AND (LOWER PORTRAIT) MISS MURIEL KELLEY, MAID OF HONOR AT THE WEDDING WHICH WAS CELEBRATED LAST NIGHT.

Two Prominent Pioneer Families United by Marriage

THE marriage of Miss Edith Gere Kelley, daughter of the late George W. Kelley and Mrs. Kelley, and John Woodruffe Garthwaite, which took place last night, united two prominent pioneer families of Oakland. The wedding was of great interest to local society, in which the members of the two families have so long held a leading place. Nearly 300 persons from the exclusive set attended the ceremony.

It was a church wedding, with Dr. John Blackwell, rector emeritus, conducting the marriage service in Trinity Episcopal church, which was a beautiful sight indeed, in fernery of all kinds, together with white chrysanthemums and stately palms, the gorgeous decoration making an effective background for the lovely gowns of the bride and her attendant, Miss Muriel Kelley. Three little flower girls, Harriet and Elizabeth Kelley and Mary Davis, led the bridal procession, carrying baskets of lilies of the valley and maidenhair. Miss Muriel Kelley followed, gowned in pale green charmeuse with trimmings of gold and carrying a shower bouquet of lilies of the valley.

BRIDE BEAUTIFULLY GOWNED.
The bride, who is of the blonde type of beauty, wore a handsome robe of light pink brocade satin, the bodice of which was trimmed in shadow lace and rhinestones, while rare lace was used on the skirt, which was made along simple lines. Over this fell the tulle veil held in place by a half wreath of orange blossoms. Orchids and lilies of the valley, tied with lover's knots of white tulle, made the bridal bouquet.

Many elaborate and costly gowns were worn by the wedding guests. Mrs. W. W. Garthwaite wore an imported gown of white embroidered silk.

Mrs. Arthur Kelley was attired in a gown of white and gold.

Mr. and Mrs. Garthwaite will make their future home in Alameda county, at Corona, where Garthwaite owns orange groves.

Both young people will be much missed by local society.

Ralph Butler was groom and the usher were Gilbert Rech, Peter Nuden, Irving Cockroft and Russell Countryman.

WEDDING SUPPER.

About sixty guests, most of whom were relatives, attended the reception and wedding supper at the home of the bride. The rooms were attractively decorated in green and white. After the supper and congratulations the bride and bridegroom departed on their bridal trip, which will include a tour of the east and Canada.

Garthwaite is the son of W. W. Garthwaite, his father being well known in banking circles of this state. Both bride and bridegroom are gatified financially. The former is a gifted pi-

Chicago Woman Wants the Federal Control of Marriage.

INDIANAPOLIS, Oct. 3.—Federal control of marriage and divorce was recommended by Mrs. Orville T. Bright of Chicago who addressed the Fourth National conservation congress today as the representative of the National Congress of Mothers.

Dr. Jose A. Holmes, director of the national bureau of mines, declared conservation in the mining industry depended on two reforms, safeguarding the miners' lives, both as regards to accidents and health conditions and by stopping the waste of mine products. He said 75 per cent of the miners were non-English speaking and did not know of the safe-guard regulations.

RENTON PLEADS GUILTY AND IS FINED $200

Dr. H. A. Renton, who was arrested at the instance of the State Board of Medical Examiners on a charge of practicing medicine without a license, pleaded guilty without a lawyer. George Samuels, the attorney and a friend of Dr. Renton, was arrested August 28 by Sergeant William Brackett at his office at Broadway.

MRS. BLEDSOE ULTIMATUM TO REOPENS FIGHT PORTÉ DUE TODAY

Attempt of Attorney to Divorce Spouse Now Battle of Affidavits.

Husband Declares Wife Has No Right to Change Her Mind.

The attempt of A. J. Bledsoe, an attorney, to divorce Jessie L. Bledsoe because she became a woman drummer and failed to contribute to the support of two minor children, has resolved itself into a battle of affidavits centering upon the question of whether the wife is to be permitted to change her mind and contest her husband's suit after having signed an agreement with him out of court and having permitted a default judgment to be entered against her.

The wife is now "on the road," but her attorney, Hugh K. McEvitt, has filed in the Superior Court an application that the default judgment be set aside and the wife be permitted to disprove her husband's charges of neglect and non-support of the children.

The suit, which was filed July 22 of this year, attracted considerable attention at the time because the husband sued to have the home in Berkeley set aside for the use of himself and children and complained that his wife boasted that she earned more than he, but nevertheless failed to contribute to the support of the family.

In reply to the affidavits filed by Mrs. Bledsoe and her attorney in an effort to reopen the case, the husband and his attorney, Henry B. Lister, have filed counter affidavits asserting that his wife deliberately permitted the case to go by default and that her attorney is acting upon his own initiative in seeking to have the judgment set aside.

In support of this contention an agreement between husband and wife, dated August 10, in which the former agreed to turn over to his wife the two children and the family home and furniture, being absolved in return from alimony counsel fees and the support of the two children. In addition the agreement spoke of several notes made by the husband in the wife's favor, which the latter agreed to surrender and pay to the husband, also the sum of $300 in cash.

GIVES HER OPINION.

The opinion of Mrs. Bledsoe concerning the divorce laws of this country are set forth in the following letter, sent to the husband's attorney when the wife was "drumming" in the East:

"Mr. Bledsoe knows if I had fought the case he would not have got a divorce. When I thought the matter over carefully and thought of the awful shame and disgrace it would hang upon the father of my children and perhaps ruin his business, I thought I must make the sacrifice for the sake of my two dear boys, even if the greater part of the complaint was wrong. Sincerely yours,

"JESSIE L. BLEDSOE.

"P. S.—Do you wonder when our divorce laws are so crooked there is so much unhappiness in the world?"

Mrs. Bledsoe is expected to return to Oakland soon and to personally take charge of her case.

HOUSE OF ORGIES CLOSED BY COURT

American Citizens Are Taken From Mexicans by Rurales.

MEXICO CITY, Oct. 3.—Three American citizens were rescued by rurales guards today from the rebels just as they were being compelled at the muzzle of rifles to write letters to friends in the capital asking for money for their ransom.

The men were A. B. Skolnik, L. J. Statler and C. J. Miller. They are civil engineers and were engaged on railway survey work when they were captured by rebels and taken to a camp near Acancan, 30 miles southeast of here. Their captors insisted that they write messages or newspapermen and in other ways threaten the American citizens.

They complained to the police yesterday and after watching the place for several hours Detective Harvey and Leonhardt arrested a P. Harvey, a waiter, with disorderly conduct. Judge Sullivan found him guilty of the offense and admonished him that he would have to vacate the premises within ten hours or be sent to jail.

"This is a residence section," said the court, "where people live and bring up their families and as far as I have power there will be no such conduct in that district."

Members of Women's Club to Make Complaint to the Police.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 3.—Members of the Women's Orangewood Club charged this morning to Justice John Sullivan that rurales are committing the same kind of outrages as those known about wild orgies alleged to have taken place recently in a house at 1615 Forty-eighth avenue. They said that all times of night and day scantly garbed men and women were seen at the doors and windows.

The proposed amendment provides for the complete ban of horse racing within the State of California. Ables Slips a Cog in the Northland and Beavers Annex Opening Game of Series

BAD AS IT IS, IT COULD HAVE BEEN FAR WORSE

Big Jumbo Ables Fails to Put the Crusher on the Beavers, but at That Dil- lonites Lose, Too

PORLAND, Oct. 3.—"Dutch" Klawitter was the opposing pitcher to Harry Ables in the opening game of the Portland-Oakland series here yesterday afternoon, and Big Dutch put rings all around the hope of the Oaks.

Right off the reel Mac's men began to lace the big portside of the leaders, and with the finish of the first half of the third inning had Jumbo in the down and out class.

Playing fast, snappy ball, the Beavers were out to win from the jump. Perfect support was given Klawitter, who fanned seven, allowed only four widely scattered hits and issued no walks. Five of the seven retired in fast double plays; land men got on the paths, and two of "Fenway" ended the game when he went back of second and grabbed Zacher's fast grounder, flying out. Learns at second and completing the double with a fast peg to first.

RODGERS HIT WELL.

It was a general hitting by Captain Rodgers that counted most in Portland's scoring. The Beaver second-snacker pounded in three of the five runs and scored himself in the third inning swatfest. Two hits and an infield out and a walk filled the base in the third. Then Bancroft scored on Deane's out and Rodgers hammered the ball between center and left fields for two bases, two Beavers scoring Krueger's single scored Rodgers.

In the fifth Rodgers drove in another run. Deane forced out Chadbourn, who had singled, and then advanced to third on a wild peer to succeed by Ables and scored on Rodgers' hit between short and third. After that Ables tightened and only Portland men got on the sacks in the last three frames.

KLAWITTER DID WELL.

Early in the game Klawitter seemed to be going out for the league strike-out record, but he was held in check and the second retired the side on 10 pitched balls, not one even being fouled. He fanned another in the third, but after the Beavers had piled up a four-run lead he lay down. Until the fifth inning only one ball was knocked out of the infield.

Captain Ables played his best ball for the Beavers both the Portland regulars being on the bench with injuries. Rappaport, Ables' plainest first base for the Beavers, both the Portland regulars being on the bench with injuries. Rappaport,

BOSTON GROUNDS TO BE IN SHAPE FOR FIRST GAME

SMALL FORTUNE WILL BE SPENT TO SEE BIG SERIES

BOSTON, Oct. 3.—Delivery of world's series reserved seat tickets for the games that are to be played in Boston began today. Notices were mailed to fortunate applicants last night to call at the club headquarters for the tickets that have been allotted them. The officials plan to have the distribution continue from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. every week day until the opening of the first game on October 10.

The temporary seating arrangements have been completed and the field has been put in the best possible shape. The diamond has been regraded, every pebble has been picked up, and the grass has been hauled back and forth over the infield and base lines until the surface is as smooth as a table.

The big canvas cover has been thrown over the field not to be removed until Monday afternoon when the Americans go to the grounds for a workout before starting for New York in the afternoon.

The groundkeeper will get his men to work again as soon as the team leaves and the field in its present condition for the second game of the series, which bearing interference by the weather, will be played here next Wednesday.

BLOOMER GIRLS WILL HAVE FAST TEAM IN FIELD

The Boston Girls' Ball Club gathered in another victory yesterday afternoon in Boston City, and the way the lassies are playing now they will put up a hard fight against the all-star aggregation which will meet them at Fenway Park next Sunday afternoon. The girls have not lost a game since last July, and they should provide a mighty interesting exhibition on the local lot.

Miss May (Ruby) Wedell, the southern belle, has been stumping out from eight to twelve hours in each game, and is showing class worthy of a big leaguer. The other girls have created a sensation wherever they have appeared and should furnish a lot of excitement at Freeman's.

"Witch" Devereaux, who is in charge of the all-stars, promises to furnish a remarkable line-up. He will have some well-known professionals on his club.

Notice is hereby given that in accordance with the provisions of section 1044 of the Political Code of the State of California, all voters of Alameda County shall apply for re-registration in order to be eligible at the primary election to be held on September 7, 1912, and for the general election to be held on the 6th day of November, 1912.

Owing to the fact that there is no provision of law giving assistance to the County Clerk in the registration of voters, it is important that voters should apply for registration at once, in order to expedite the work.

Such re-registration began on the first day of January and will be in process at all times until August 31, 1912, for the purpose of enabling voters to qualify for the primary election after which registration will be open and continue until October 6th, 1912, for the purpose of enabling voters to qualify for the general election to be held November 6th, 1912.

The attention of voters is especially directed to the recent decision of the supreme court in which it is held that all voters must have registered this year in order to vote in the signing of any certificate of nomination in behalf of any candidate for office to be voted for at the primary election, to be held September 7, 1912.

Attention is further directed to the following provisions of the Political Code of the State of California, relating to registration:

Section 1037. No person's name must be entered by the Clerk unless:

1. Upon the production and filing of a certified copy of the judgment of the Superior Court directing such entry be made.

2. In a naturalized citizen, upon the production of his certificate of naturalization, which certificate must be issued ninety days prior to the succeeding election, or upon his affidavit that it is lost or out of his possession which affidavit must state the place of his nativity, and the time and place of his naturalization, together with his affidavit that he has resided in the United States for five years, and in this State for one year next preceding the date of application, and that he would be an elector of the county or city, and county at the next succeeding election; provided however, if such naturalized citizen shall have been previously registered as a qualified elector in any of the counties or cities and counties of this State, and shall produce a certificate of such registration, issued by the party authorized by law to issue such certificates, which shall recite the time and place of naturalization of such elector, such certificate shall be prima facie evidence of his naturalization.

In the event that such naturalized citizen shall state in his affidavit that he was naturalized in the county or city and county in which he seeks to register, or in the event that he was previously registered within the preceding eight years within the county or city and county in which he seeks to register, and his certificate of naturalization has not been revoked, he shall not be required to produce his certificate of naturalization, nor to make such affidavit of loss, certificate in lieu thereof, provided, however, that in any county or city and county where the affidavit of registration have been destroyed by fire or configuration, or other public calamity, the above stated provision of previous registration with the preceding eight years shall in such number of years past as there shall exist a record of previous registration, and not to exceed in any event said eight years.

3. If born in a foreign country, upon his affidavit that he became a citizen of the United States by virtue of the naturalization of his father while he was residing in the United States and under the age of twenty-one years, and that he is or would be an elector of the county at the next ensuing election.

4. In all other cases, upon the affidavit of the party that he is or will be an elector of the county at the next succeeding election. Such affidavit must be made before the County Clerk or his deputies with the registration of voters or their deputy. If any elector is absent from the county in which he claims residence, he may appear before any judge or clerk of any court of record, or notary public, or in a foreign country, before any minister, consul, vice-consul of the United States, and make and subscribe an affidavit as to his residence, specifying in what ward or precinct he claims residence, that he will be necessarily and unavoidably absent from said county or city and county, on all the days allowed by law for general registration of electors, and setting forth in his affidavit which and the matters required by section one thousand and ninety-six of the Political Code of the State of California, and forward such affidavits, duly authenticated as above, by mail, enclosed in an envelope, addressed to the county clerk of any county or the registrar of voters in any city and county. Upon receipt of such affidavit by such clerk or registrar of voters within the time allowed by law for registration, it shall entitle the name of such elector to be entered by the clerk in the proper register in such precinct.

5. In every case the affidavit of the party must show all the facts required to be stated in the entry on the register, except the date of the entry.

Further notice is hereby given that affidavits of registration must be sworn to before the County Clerk or his deputies and that they cannot swear to the provisions of the registration law, be sworn before any other officer.

The office of the county clerk will be open for registration until further notice from 9 o'clock a.m. until 5 o'clock p.m. of each day, except Saturdays, on which day the office will close at 12 o'clock noon.

Dated: March 11, 1912.

JOHN P. COOK,
(SEAL)
County Clerk.

THEY ALL DEMAND IT

Oakland, Like Every City and Town in the Union, Receives It.

People with kidneyills want to be cured. When one suffers the tortures of an aching back, relief is eagerly sought for. There are many remedies that relieve, but do not cure. Doan's Kidney Pills have cured thousands. Here is proof.

Mrs. T. J. Courtney, 1511 Fifth Street, Alameda, Cal., says: "The splendid results I have obtained from the use of Doan's Kidney Pills gives me high opinion of them. I had a severe attack of kidney trouble when I was never, or eight years old, and after that I was weak. Backache annoyed me a great deal and other difficulties caused by weak kidneys were present. When lying down my back ached more severely and I could not sleep. This loss of rest caused a tired, languid feeling that clung to me constantly. When I learned of Doan's Kidney Pills several years ago, I used them and they did such good work that I was given great confidence in their curative powers. I have taken them remedy since then, and it has brought such great benefit that I can speak for the claims made for it."

TO RUSH WORK ON NILES BRIDGE

Superior Judge Declares Construction an Emergency Measure.

Superior Judge William S. Wells has sustained the legality of the action of the Board of Supervisors in declaring the new Niles bridge an emergency measure and ordering its construction under that designation. Thus the county will not have to issue bonds, though the cost of the structure will be over $50,000. The state law limits the expenditures of the Board of Supervisors to $50,000 except in emergencies, and the Los Angeles construction company, which won the contract for the bridge, brought suit before Judge Wells for partial payment on an alternative writ of mandate. The court held that a substantial bridge at that point before the winter rains was an emergency matter.

ITALIANS TO CHOOSE QUEEN.

Tickets have been printed for the big queen contest, which is to open right away and close before Thanksgiving holiday. The Italians this year will combine upon a candidate and because of the active part they have always taken in this holiday, adding much to make it a success. It is probable that their candidate will be successful. Heretofore they have never confined themselves to one candidate and have lost by a narrow margin. Cav. Uff. F. Fugazi, a pioneer Italian banker of the Pacific coast, is honorary president of the day and will work for its success.

Plans for the regatta and the water sports are being rushed and from all indications this part of the program will be as distinctive as it has been in the past.

The principal speakers of the day have not yet been chosen, but their names will be announced in a few days.

His subject will be "The Choice of a Vocation." Pupils of the evening schools and all adults have been invited to attend.
